

SPECIALIZATION IN ECOLOGY AND SYSTEMATICS

Larissa Liana D. Chingcuanco

Like my fandoms, Ateneo has taught me a lot of things. It has taught me that it is our choices that show who we truly are, rather than our abilities. It has taught me that family doesn't end with blood, and if you do what moves you, the good will follow. Most importantly, it has taught me that everyone is their own person, and even if it seems like you're falling behind, just you wait, you'll get there eventually. After all, we're all stories in the end; our job is just to make it a good one.

SPECIALIZATION IN MICROBIOLOGY

Ateneo opened me to a huge world filled with life changing experiences which shaped me to become an evolving being. As a science enthusiast, I was caged in the world of empirical knowledge, ignoring other things in the background. However, Ateneo made me realize that there is more to college than just being an academic giant. My eyes were opened to the wholeness of life and human society. For that, I want to say thank you to the place I have been privileged to call home for the past four years.
