

Justine Therese P. Narciso

If Craig Lounsbrough defines living as “walking in the fullest expression of who I am” then Justine truly lives. She walked into the world on 5-31; into the spotlight to sing for 200 at 3 years old; up to the podium to deliver her HS valedictory address; and finally, walked through college. She walks in and out of peoples’ lives restoring their faith in human nature. Lives truthfully onstage. Pursues her passions with passion. Gives love generously. Does she walk on water? No. At least, not yet.

Alyana Marie Rizielle R. Olivar

“Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure.” (Marianne Williamson)