

MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Benjamin Nicolo G. De Guzman

The outset of my college life in the Ateneo was a baptism by fire. Along with the new landscape of diversity were the challenges in the odyssey to realize my true potential. Through each of our courses, we persevered to bring our aspirations to fruition. Like a fire, that baptism evoked in us the will to face obstacles and with its light, the blissful experience of forging new friendships. I, along with my fellow graduates, are entering yet another frontier; where new horizons await us.
