

MINOR IN DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT

Kimiko Catherine C. Sy

In life, we are constantly searching for this mystery we call “stability.” In the presence of instability, Kimiko Sy was my balance. Luckily for me, the universe was on my side when it graced me with her presence. She is the embodiment of an Atenean. She is every shade of blue needed to color the sky- the home of her limitless dreams. She is destined for greatness. Living her life in the service of others, she encapsulates the true meaning of serving for the good and for our God. (A. Mercado)

Patricia Ysabel D. Tabian

The day starts with an invitation to go some place. Lunch. A Coffee shop. A place to study. It could be anywhere. Nevertheless, she makes sure that every moment with the people she cares for is memorable and worthwhile. In times of need, she'll be there to lift you up. And when the day ends, she'll be there to find the good in you, especially when you can't find it in yourself. For her, there's always a bright side, even at night. (K. Hernandez & I. Salazar)
