

MINOR IN HISTORY

Alfonso Miguel N. Sevidal

Every moment is a miracle, the product of countless factors that each could have gone some other way, but didn't. Yes, maybe some things could have gone better — that TBA could have been a Tirol, but these four irreplaceable years are what they are: a few spontaneous trips to BWings, some papers sent in at exactly 11:59PM, a couple of tiffs with groupmates, and a whole lot of smiles and tears.

It's been a long journey, but as tired as Sevi is, he's already off to the next one.

MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

Bernice D. Solco

Simcha is a Hebrew word connoting a deep sense of gladness and it is this kind of gladness that Bernice brings to the world. Her ability to bring joy is anchored on her ability to see the beauty in the little things — the napping cat, the shared meal, the short giggle, the warm embrace. While not one for words, she manages to say much and make a meaningful impact on others through her genuine smile and sincere desire to listen.

Wherever Bernice goes in the future, simcha will follow. (M. Sevidal)
