Of all the experiences I've had, nothing compares with my Junior Term Abroad. I met varying types of people, encountered trying moments and realized my reach far extended beyond my grasp. I've learned to be independent and yet be responsible for my groupmates' well-being. Surviving by myself is challenging, but helping others live their lives is fulfilling. I discerned the Almighty Father has a divine plan for us to fulfill. Hope for the best, expect the worst, life's a play, we're unrehearsed.
