

John Wesley T. Chan

College is where I was pushed to my limits. From sleepless nights to submitting papers while wearing my PJ's, all I can say is these are the years where I learned about life the most. The relationships I've built will forever influence my being, while the successes and failures I encountered imparted lessons that have empowered me more than ever. It was the journey where I first saw beauty in learning, because the moment we stop learning is the moment we start growing old.

DOUBLE MAJOR IN AB ECONOMICS; MINOR IN INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY; MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Zernon Ezra Y. Chan

"God is silent. He remains silent even in the face of all these sufferings. Christ did not die for the good and beautiful. It is easy to die for the good and beautiful; the hard thing is to die for the miserable and corrupt. There is something about our neighbors that comes with faith—it is never selfish. Sin is for one man to walk over the life of another and to be quite oblivious of the wounds he left behind. Nevertheless, it remains to be answered why we suffer and where is God in all these."