

Vince Gabriel B. Dulay

Nothing is more valuable in this world, but to engage yourself in wonder. Such is a gift that Ateneo has imparted to me in the last four years. It is with this asset that I allowed myself to be open to experience, people, and the world. Without it, I do not think I would have lasted the all-nighters, the thesis adventures, and dreadful exams. I found out what it means to further my potential. For that, with all my heart, I thank the Ateneo.

Pocholo Miguel M. Espina

The thing about Pocholo Espina is he can do anything. Even if he can't, he will anyway—from (insert crazy things he's done here) to (insert more crazy achievements here). But those closest to him would know that the best thing about Poch is that he will do almost anything for you. Why? Because in Ateneo, he learned what it means to truly love.

And now that he's really graduating, here's a short reminder from the Universe! Look ahead, with dreams in mind, because you know exactly what to do.
