

MINOR IN HISTORY & JAPANESE STUDIES

Allan Yuji M. De Torres

This wasn't my dream school.

But Ateneo had more than that.

From my OrSem, to four more as a TnT, to my block, to my JTA in Tsukuba University, to the Fine Arts (Program) Department, to all my life-changing professors, to all the people I encountered in Ateneo, to the magis this university has, to now the last leg of the race, the fifth year wild card. Ateneo you're truly a wonder.

I promise I'll keep on fighting.

“The question may be asked: What good is a gouging-inward, limbs and all? All of it, saith another nodding slowly so that there'd be room for more to maniefst; the idea is to retire a couple but retain that all are bound to co-exist within familiar if not totally identical parameters.” (A. Miranda)
