

Frances Christine P. Sayson

The dictionary defines a classic as something judged over a period of time to be of the highest quality and outstanding of its kind. Frances is precisely that. Over the past four years, she has exhibited excellence in all areas of her life—in achievements, friendships, and most of all, in character.

A determined dreamer, humble leader, and exquisite person. Classic Frances.

I thought “Fake it ‘till you make it.” was bad advice but it’s actually one of my favorite life lessons. Take risks, overcome challenges, stop worrying and just do it. Stop worrying about what others think and just do what you want. I don’t know what I’m doing most of the time but it’s ok; life is interesting that way. It’s ok to live with uncertainty and insecurities. But love yourself and do what you want even if you don’t think you can. The results might surprise you. Mine sure did.
