The great poet Dr. Seuss said, “And will you succeed? Yes! You will, indeed! (98 and  $\frac{3}{4}$  percent guaranteed.)” Thank you, Ateneo, for four years of showing me the importance of the 1 and  $\frac{1}{4}$  percent in learning to take disappointments in stride, getting back up, and trying harder. Here’s to the true triumphs behind the struggles: The life-saving food deliveries and coffee runs, the banter and the laughs, the memories made, the plans promised, and the lifelong bonds that make everything worthwhile.

I’ve found people who’ve enriched my life, ideas that have molded me, and moments of growth that have served as my becoming. For these, I can’t be any more grateful.

As a believer in people and a lover of ideas, I continue to yearn, and I continue to learn.
