

DOUBLE MAJOR IN AB ECONOMICS; MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Ivan Carlo D. Alberto

Entering Ateneo, I hit the ground running, not knowing what to expect. Throughout my stay, I experienced the most stressful years of my life, dealing with a seven-day work week for my theses and several sleepless nights for projects. These made me more resilient and better prepared for the challenges I have yet to face. Amid all these, I was able to form long-lasting bonds with amazing and dependable people. As I leave Ateneo, I remain grateful that it formed me to be the way I am.

Reg's remarkable academic performance is evident in how he breezed through high school and college in a seemingly effortless manner. He is also a good friend because he always has your back, and is fun to be with 99% of the time. In addition to academics and friendships, he also makes a huge impact in his organizations, given how he invests his time and effort on all of them. On top of all these, Reg is a man with a set of values and virtues that he will never compromise.
