

Andrew Ryan M. Ty

College life has been chaotic, but controlled; tiring, but productive; sleepless, but exciting (well, most of the time). A big shout out to the friends I've kept, the friends I've made, and my family who supported me all the way throughout my college life, as it has been one crazy journey. All of you made me who I am today. I am also eternally grateful to the Ateneo for providing me 4 years of quality education. With this, I bid farewell, taking all that I have learned to my next big adventure!