Ralph Matthew J. Uy

From a distance, after years of navigating through the vast expanse of blue, he sees—they see—what seems like the end of the journey. They went against the tides, wherever the wind blew. From dock to dock they went, and from dock to dock they left, finding things they did not even know they were looking for. New ships, different ships, await at the dock at the foot of the hill as they—as we—dock one more time. Eyes are dry at this last goodbye. Thank you for the journey.

Maxinne Gabrielle B. Vasquez

As someone who's not afraid to go beyond her limits, Max has always strived to experience life on the edge, never afraid to go the extra mile for people and things she cares deeply about. She will take every opportunity as a chance to become better, even if she already has so much on her plate. Friendly and approachable is how people would see her, always ready to crack a joke here and there which never fails to make your day a bit brighter.
