

MINOR IN CHINESE STUDIES

Reginald Drew A. Ong

From the barber's cut, chipped tooth, loose jeans-wearing happy-go-lucky teen to the prim and proper overstressed millennial, the last four years have been incredible.

Never forget the endless passes, org work, panel presentations, quizzes, midterms. Not only did these instill discipline, but also, more importantly the grit that runs in your veins.

You may not be the smartest, fastest or strongest, but to be the grittiest may be the best of all. Be an enabler in this world.

OBF,

Reggie
