Before Ateneo, I would not dare swim farther than what my toes could reach. It was here that I discovered where my deepest currents lie, and that I was happiest when I went through great lengths for causes I believed in. I learned to dive headfirst for dreams that bring fire to my soul, and to cherish the little things which I find truly matter most. Thank you for the miracle of crossing paths with the people who taught me this kind of love and passion for life that goes deep and never runs out.

Ateneo gave me the best version of myself. For that, I promise to give the world the best of me. Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam!
