I have traveled far, made good friends, developed new skills, and learned new things. And I have realized that the world and I are not completely different. We are both under a constant state of development and growth. We fail, stumble, and fall. But, we always get back up standing. To keep trying. To fight the One Big Fight.

Ateneo has taught me to find the place where I could take root and grow, but it also taught me to find the place where I can serve the world in the best way I can.
