

MINOR IN LITERATURE; MINOR IN HISTORY

Kristiana Jay G. Feliciano

If asked in freshman year who we thought would survive MGT-H, I would have thought twice about Kiana, being the kind of girl who does everything last minute. Underneath her carefree facade, however, is a passionate student who thrives under pressure. Once her mind is focused, there's nothing she can't do. So don't be surprised if Kiana discovers a rare species in the mountains of Sagada or becomes the founder and CEO of a leading firm that rivals Netflix; it's just Kiana being Kiana.

Raphael Jose P. Galvez

Raph is a man of many talents: he can play the guitar, the piano, the drums, and even with your feelings. But Raph's no playboy. In fact, he's the definition of Magis. He would spend weekends studying, with Sundays devoted to hearing mass. When he isn't in the library or at church, he would be at home being a loving brother and a respectful son. Raph also knows how to have fun. He would spend his free time doing sports to maintain a healthy lifestyle. (Paolo Lim)