

MINOR IN CREATIVE WRITING; MINOR IN FRENCH

Julianne Odette O. Suazo

In a year, she visited 4 countries, took 2 minors, finished her thesis, and began a new job. What most people could only dream of doing, Juli has already done. It's not surprising that so many people look up to her. As her best friend, I believe that I look up to her the most. It's one to see her accomplish all these things, but it's another to have done them alongside her. I believe that a luminescent future awaits her, and the world has yet to see what she will do next. (K. Lao)

MINOR IN DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT

Kimiko Catherine C. Sy

In life, we are constantly searching for this mystery we call "stability." In the presence of instability, Kimiko Sy was my balance. Luckily for me, the universe was on my side when it graced me with her presence. She is the embodiment of an Atenean. She is every shade of blue needed to color the sky- the home of her limitless dreams. She is destined for greatness. Living her life in the service of others, she encapsulates the true meaning of serving for the good and for our God. (A. Mercado)
