

MINOR IN EUROPEAN STUDIES

Jaime Ricardo E. Leocadio

He's the groupmate you're surprised you work well with, the charismatic classmate who persuades the professor into later deadlines, and the friend you find yourself randomly opening up to. Looking back, he finds that, "college was steady because of Empi." He's a reminder that you should never judge a book by its cover. He lives today without disregarding tomorrow. Then one day, while drinking with him on a school night, you find yourself promising to compose his yearbook write up. (S. Warren)

Maria Carenina L. Lim

Mia is an insanely dedicated person when it comes to her advocacies and her loved ones. She has a knack for making people feel at ease, appreciated, and loved. In fact, she radiates so much love and kindness that it's evident in all the lives she has touched and counting. For a young lady, she has a strong sense of identity and social responsibility which makes her unlike most millennials. Mia is a game changer and a groundbreaker with a bright future ahead of her. (Credits to people close to Mia's heart)
