

SPECIALIZATION IN MICROBIOLOGY

Jarra D. Mangente

To my dream school, you were never like what I had in mind. From surviving hell weeks to breezing through spontaneous nights, from meeting the best of friends to finding the advocacies and orgs I learned to love. You helped me set sail for what had been an exhilarating four years in college, and now it is time to dock. Not to stop, but to continue sailing towards new seas. Who I was in the beginning is who I am now, only more so. Thank you, Ateneo!

SPECIALIZATION IN BIOMEDICAL SCIENCES

Jessica Mae L. Meriño

Some call her Jess, some Princess, but I know her as Jem. She was this prim little girl with a thirst for the vast ocean's waters. And so she sets sail chasing it, dancing with the waves, with her heart everywhere she goes. She's the one who's never afraid to take risks and go on new adventures. From fighting for what she believes in to embracing defeats and heartbreaks, she never backs down, she never settles. Jem is a tough woman with an even compassionate heart.
