

MINOR IN SOCIOLOGY

Irene Claire R. Pajarito

Sometimes the perception of the risk is greater than the risk itself. It was tough going, but I finally was able to overcome a few of my fears and just enjoy whatever comes to pass. From my first trip with friends, to my first movie alone, to endless coffee fueled all-nighters, and to reckless decisions, my college experience wouldn't be what it is if I hadn't left my home to be here. Ateneo became my home for four years. It was hell in the short run, but definitely worth it in the long run.

Gabriel V. Piñon

In Ateneo, I faced countless challenges and overcame most of them with the support of my family and friends. I'm sure I won't remember every lesson that I learned, but I will always treasure the relationships that I have formed during my four years in Ateneo.

I will forever be grateful to my parents for giving me the opportunity to study in this prestigious university and it is now time for me to give back, not only to my parents, but to the community as well.
