Sa aking paglalayag sa malawak na karagatang tinatawag nating Ateneo, natuklasan ko ang iba't ibang along wawasak at aangat sa akin. Bilang isang manlalayag, kinailangan kong matutunang lumundag sa kabila ng kawalang-katiyakan at magtaya sa tunay na mahalaga. Makailang beses na ako'y nalunod ngunit sa dulo'y kumapit at umahon pa rin. Sa isang natatanging paraan, nagkaroon ng pagsibol sa gitna ng karagatan. Sa wakas, ako'y dumaong at muling maglalayag para sa higit na ikaluluwalhati ng Diyos.

All you need to know, all anyone needs to know, and all I ever knew is this: Power through. Power through the freshman culture shock, the sophomore loads of org work, the junior academic pressures, and the senior race to the finish. Power through it all. Fight for every victory, every aced exam, every sleepless night, every hungover Monday, and every broken heart. And thank God, ARSA, and the Loyola Schools. For Ateneo is the tinder, my passion is the fuel, and I am the flame.
