

Kyle Patrick T. Gosiaco

“A dream you dream alone is only a dream. A dream you dream together is reality.” (John Lennon)

Frances Margery L. Hu

Your college life has not been an easy one, but if there's been one constant thing all throughout your Ateneo journey, it's that good things always come out of even the seemingly bleakest times. May it be in the form of learned lessons, new experiences, good friends, unforgettable memories, hope, even love — these make everything worthwhile. Cheers to the four great years that it has been, and here's to looking forward to life.