

MINOR IN ENTERPRISE SYSTEMS

Ma. Raphiela L. Agustin

The tides were rough, but the journey was worth it. Ateneo has taught me so much, but never fails to remind me that there is always more to learn. Thank you for the four years that gave me the wisdom to take on what's after, the heart to move with compassion, and the courage to keep going. Here's to the voyage that will never cease to end even when we've reached the shore.

MINOR IN ENTERPRISE SYSTEMS

Let's be honest here: I have no idea how I survived this university. Or college. Or life in general. But one thing is for sure: I loved to challenge myself. Especially ones that I haven't tried yet, honestly. And I think Ateneo has given me enough challenges to measure myself against other people and myself, to push myself through the limit. And after all of those challenges, I have to say one final thing. That was fun.
