

MINOR IN MARKETING

Francine Kristel H. Gacis

You planted me into this environment and watched me grow.
You wrote for me this story, adding characters I would get to know.
You molded me through every failure and victory.
You formed me to become who I am today, and in the future will be.
From gold and blue, to white and blue –
Thank you, Ateneo, and thank You.

MINOR IN ECONOMICS

Weingel Kristofer B. Galang

Philosophy taught me that to be human is to be in-the-world. Theology taught me to deepen my understanding of faith. Management taught me that vision comes first before business. Math taught me to compute; Science, to think critically; English and Filipino, to communicate effectively. But above all, being in Ateneo taught me to believe in myself and in others, to enjoy the journey of life, to appreciate the good things that hide in plain sight, and to glorify God from Whom all good things come.
