

Christine Alyssa P. Solis

Although my time with you may have been brief, I have found my second home in you. You have provided me the tools to face the future, and the courage to change the nation for the better. With you, I have gained a heart as loud as a lion, a mind as sharp as an eagle, and a soul as strong as an elephant. Thank you for showing me the light in a world of shadows, and helping me find my voice in the crowd. Cheers, Ateneo!

MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

Maria Ysabel A. Tangco

“You think the only people who are people
Are the people who look and think like you
But if you walk the footsteps of a stranger
You’ll learn things you never knew you never knew”
(S. Schwartz, Colors of the Wind)