

MINOR IN SPANISH

Yoo Jin Lee

“We do not remember days, we remember moments.” (C. Pavese)

Many times I wanted to give up, but many moments held me together. In college, a lot of barriers may come along your way, but once you get through them, you become a better version of yourself. The preparation I have gone through in college would suit me up to overcome greater obstacles that lie outside the four corners of a classroom. And amidst everything, hopefully, I would become the best version of myself someday.

Rimuel D. Librada

“Always toward better things.” (Anonymous)

Rimuel has always looked at the bright side of everything and everyone. His quirky and oftentimes unusual sense of humor rubs off nicely on just about everyone. Every failure and heartbreak he faced was quickly followed by an, “Oh well, kayang kaya pa naman bumawi”. All the hurdles he had to go through were looked back on as fun challenges. He was always smiling or laughing, after all. When he reads this years from now, he’ll definitely still be happy.
