

Ralph Rommel C. Liamzon

As a person of action rather than words, what Ralph doesn't always say, he expresses through genuine effort and well-meaning gestures. Be it managing academics, org work, friends, or family, in his 8 years in the Ateneo, Ralph never gave anything less than what was expected of him. For him, time is the most precious thing you can contribute, since when you decide to dedicate time to something, everything else will fall into place and follow suit. (R. Alejandro)
