

DOUBLE MAJOR IN AB ECONOMICS-HONORS; MINOR IN FRENCH STUDIES

Nelberto Nicholas M. Quinto

No other word best describes Sam than magis. He has a genuine love of learning — mastering new skills and immersing in different cultures — and finds fulfillment in sharing this with others. Whether in leading in his organization or winning various competitions, his main motivation for doing what he does is his deep-seated desire to serve and inspire those around him. Above all, Sam finds the true meaning of magis in bringing greater glory to God, who is the source and final goal of his life.

MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Leigh Genevie G. Raymundo

It's funny, what's happened in the last four years. From wasting time in the morning to struggling staying up at night. From feeling all the highs to finding comfort in the lows. From meeting people who'll just pass by to keeping some of them for life. From accidentally skipping meals to eating n times a day. From cramming requirements in school to bringing home redmundo. From learning about management to learning about life. None of these do I regret. Thank you, Ateneo, my dear, dear friend.
