Life is either a great adventure or nothing. (Helen Keller)

There are things you wait to begin. There are things you wait to end. In Ateneo, I began a new life with new people, learned new lessons, and made a lot of new mistakes. I can't think of anything that has had a bigger impact on how I've grown as a person. All I can really say is, it's been great, it's been wild, and it will never really be the end. Thank you, Ateneo.
