Thank you, Ateneo, for the constant reminder that we are capable of doing more and becoming more, not only for our own benefit, but also for others. Before Ateneo, Andi was an intimidating, independent girl, always in search of great food. Now, Andi is still in love with food and fiercely independent, but is less intimidating, more humble, and has more heart. Excellence, which only meant becoming academically excellent, now means becoming an excellent person, in all ways, always. (C. Castillo)
