

Don Richson A. Que

May the force be with you.

MINOR IN ECONOMICS

Justine Nichole K. Reyes

Life is never easy. You will always have moments of self-doubt and helplessness. You will always feel small (both literally and figuratively) and insignificant but know that what you do always matters and any effort you make will be meaningful in the end. Never stop believing in yourself and never stop struggling because it is then that you grow (at least figuratively).