

MINOR IN MARKETING

Jose Gabriel C. Espinoza

As I journeyed forth to this new milestone, I left my hometown, my family, and my friends. In doing so, I also left my identity. My life in Ateneo has been a search to fill this gap. Through sleepless nights, academic bombardments, and philosophical distresses, to newfound companions, life goal achievements, and cherished memories, I learned to be a better version of myself for others. To you, Ateneo, thank you will never be enough!

MINOR IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS

Reanne M. Estacio

I've learned that no matter what happens, or how bad it seems today, life does go on, and it will be better tomorrow. I've learned that making a living is not the same thing as making a life. I've learned that you shouldn't go through life with a catcher's mitt on both hands; you need to be able to throw some things back. I've learned that every day you should reach out and touch someone. I've learned that I still have a lot to learn. (M. Angelou)
