

Jendivina Liberata A. Arabia

Forget about sleepless nights, mental breakdowns, messed up orals, and annoying bags in Matteo. Four years of countless cups of coffee over beautiful sunrises, all-nighters with people with the wildest dreams, golden words from legendary professors, kind words from kuya and ate guards, eternal presence of Ateneo cats and dogs, and long days ending with serene sunsets in campus. Thank you Ateneo for teaching us to find beauty in little things, peace amidst enormous ones, and hope for greater things.
