

Paul Matthew P. Yap

Dear Paul,

Four years ago, I still remember you were just a young 16-year-old so uncertain about entering college — wondering if a small guy like you would ever be good enough to face such a big world. But somehow, you defied the odds and persevered; and along the way, you met great friends and inspiring mentors to help you see things through. So as you graduate, my advice to you is this: Keep dreaming. Reach for stars, though far they may seem. Even little things can change the world.

Lance C. Yeung

Lance is a modern-day Midas. He's naturally entrepreneurial, so it's no wonder that his 3D printing stints and unique products were the talk of the Ateneo Trade. He makes it look easy, but don't be fooled. He's always keeping up with new trends. This guy somehow manages to ace his tests, go to the gym daily, look aesthetic, and serenade the ladies with his voice. He's as inspiring as his favorite hero, Iron Man, and he'll certainly achieve even greater feats after graduation. (A friend of Lance)
