

SPECIALIZATION IN INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

Hannah Marie B. Maralit

Led by a wanderlust for life, Hannah's dreams of traveling the world, advocating for the marginalized, and inspiring her generation all point to her unwavering zeal to be the influencer she has always wanted to be. As she bids farewell to the Ateneo, she has some advice. Never lose your appetite for what life has to offer; stay hungry and challenge yourself to grow. Say yes to every opportunity given to you no matter how small. In the end, these will all lead you to where you need to be.

BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS TRACK

Jessa Mae S. Matamorosa

Through the storm of never-ending hell weeks turned into hell semesters, here I finally stand on the shore – grateful for pushing through all the challenges, but still not without my own set of battle scars and well-worth treasures. Thank you, Ateneo, for shaping me into my very own unique self and for giving me four years of adventures. My dearest alma mater, I am now your finished project.
