

Cristina S. Castillo

From one hill to another, I believe fate decided that we needed constants in our lives as a reminder that there is an after to every long test, every breakdown, and every hurdle thrown our way. Thank you for the lunches and dinners, late night phone calls, and insults of affection. Ateneo has made its dent on you by teaching you to be even more passionate, caring, and driven. As we descend from the hill (hills, in our case), it is now your time to leave a dent into the world. (A. Legaspi)

MINOR IN JAPANESE STUDIES

Sydney D. Chan

“I see now that the circumstances of one’s birth are irrelevant. It is what you do with the gift of life that determines who you are.” (Mewtwo, Pokémon: The First Movie)