

Eljine Mae T. Zhang

In Ateneo, I've learned to learn more. To all my classes needing to speak in Filipino, intersessions ruining my summers, papers causing me to become a coffee addict, profs testing my principles, and friends listening to my rants—thank you. I wouldn't want to experience college in any other way.