“It is not how much we have, but how much we enjoy, that makes happiness.”
(Charles Spurgeon)

MINOR IN KOREAN STUDIES

Alexandra A. Medina

Alex, or Xandra to her family and close group of friends, is a living rendition of a sweet, charming, and lovely girl. Yet, these words can never be enough to describe the beauty she genuinely has inside. Her determination in achieving her goals is immeasurable, as is her zeal and desire for improvement. It's no surprise how much of a woman she has grown from her five years of college. In and out, Xandra surely is a person who will keep your smiles up.
