

Carlex Randolph M. Jose II

As I come down from the hill knowing I place nowhere near the highest of honors, I must be ever so slightly tipping the scales in favor of the infinitely many Carls in the multiverse. I took one for the team, and in having done so, I welcomed within me pride that will perch eternally. May it keep in good company the uncountable, remarkable experiences I undeservingly amassed during my stay in Ateneo. Here's to hoping I get to serve the non-Carl community just as earnestly.

Charles Nico L. Lim