

Aldwin Gerard C. Hernia

Aldwin is today's renaissance man. Truly well-versed with food and travel, Aldwin will constantly hold your interest. He is a man with a big heart, and, selfless almost to a fault, he is always ready to aid those in need. Even in the darkest of days, he has always proved to be a reliable friend, bringing him closer to the hearts of many. Aldwin is half intellectual, half gentleman; it is not a surprise that he is on the path of greatness. (M. Chan)

"We all take different paths in life, but no matter where we go, we take a little of each other everyhwere." (Tim McGraw)
