"Learn from yesterday, live for today, hope for tomorrow. The important thing is not to stop questioning." (Albert Einstein)

Stop and listen. The world has many narratives that have yet to be unfolded. The Ateneo life has constantly challenged me to embrace the uncertain, and to be a vessel that constantly questions, understands, and loves. To be filled with fear and to live in a city of discomfort is a constant set-up of immersing in life's engagements. This is the great truth that I constantly uphold and witness. I, in following my creativity of conscience and action, look forward on where to go.
